1. Qualitative Information on Quarterly Results

(1) Explanation About Operating Results

During the nine months ended December 31, 2022, a strong sense of uncertainty swept over the global economy as inflation fears intersected sharply with concerns over recession due to the continued record price increases and as financial authorities in the U.S. and Europe took the stance of active financial tightening and implemented interest rate hikes. Further, the yen depreciated rapidly from 115 yen to the dollar at the beginning of the year to 150-yen levels in October due to differences in the financial policies, with the rate recovering to 130 yen to the dollar following a policy correction by the Bank of Japan in December.

Under such circumstances, Nikko Group has been affected by the rising prices of raw materials and supplies as well as prolonged delivery times. At the same time, road pavement companies, who are the main users of asphalt plants, continue to take a wait-and-see attitude towards capital investment due to uncertainties over economic trends and the impact of rising crude oil prices. As a result, consolidated net sales of the Group in the period under review came to 27,129 million yen (down 0.1% from the same period a year earlier).

In terms of profits, consolidated operating income totaled 367 million yen (down 64.2% from the same period a year earlier) due to rising raw material prices and the impact of increases in expenses for research and development towards decarbonization and development of global products as well as an increase in personnel costs. Consolidated ordinary income came to 529 million yen (down 55.7% from the same period a year earlier), while quarterly net income attributable to owners of parent totaled 224 million yen (down 74.6% from the same period a year earlier).

Operating results by segment are as follows.

(i) Asphalt Plant-Related Business

Net sales of both products and the maintenance business in Japan decreased compared with the same period a year earlier. Overseas net sales increased compared with the same period a year earlier. As a result, net sales of the business declined 2.1% to 13,085 million yen from the same period a year earlier. New orders received and order backlog in the period under review declined compared with a year earlier.

(ii) Concrete Plant-Related Business

Net sales of products in Japan and abroad declined compared with the same period a year earlier. Net sales of the maintenance business in Japan increased compared with the same period a year earlier. As a result, net sales of the business declined 8.7% to 6,644 million yen from the same period a year earlier. New orders received in the period under review declined compared with a year earlier, while order backlog increased year on year. (iii) Environment- and Conveyor-Related Business

Net sales of both environmental products and conveyer products declined compared with the same period a year earlier. As a result, net sales of the business declined 2.6% to 2,138 million yen from the same period a year earlier. New orders received and order backlog in the period under review declined compared with a year earlier. (iv) Other Business

Net sales of hand tools and crushers increased from the same period a year earlier. Net sales of temporary construction materials declined compared with the same period a year earlier. As a result, net sales of the business increased 21.6% to 5,259 million yen from the same period a year earlier. New orders received and order backlog in the period under review increased compared with a year earlier.

Noncurrent assets came to 18,699 million yen, up 748 million yen from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. Factors contributing to the change include increases of 362 million yen in construction in progress, 259 million yen in land, and 136 million yen in buildings and structures as well as declines of 139 million yen in deferred tax assets and 56 million yen in software in progress.
